firwo months ago, in the public print, we said I that this looks like Buick's biggest year we-weren't fooling...

But what has happened-and continues to happen ~ is almost beyond belief.

People buy up these stunning new Buicks practically as fast as we get them from the factory. Buick production - already revised upward several times -keeps forging ahead to new highs every month to meet the mounting demand.

And Buick sales keep soaring higher and higher and higher - outstripping by far the phenomenal success of last year - the success that moved Buick into the "Big Three" of America's best sellers.

State Legislature Enters "Battle Of The Budget" Juggling Figures

Economy In Government is fine for those who can afford it. That was the tenor of complaints as the legislature went into the "Battle of the Budget" for 1955-56, juggling figures for the current year.

The totals: Republicans want to cut Gov. Williams' budget from $292 million to $267 million. They figure they'll need between $14 million and $28 million in new taxes.

On paper, the situation doesn's add. Some believe existing taxes will yield more next year, others say the budget will be more to cover deficiencies and extra ex-chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee.

-Republicans on the Senate appropriations committee drew the first fire by reducing the budget of Michigan State College and ruling out the self-liquidating building program:

The State Board of Agriculture complained officially in a special mergency meeting. Chairman Clark Brody said tha

"the quality of instruction will be impaired" if the budget cuts were not restored and that the buildnot restored and that the build-ing program would be needed to handle the expected influx of

For Years, the proposal to ab-olish the elective Superintendent of Public Instruction in favor of an appointed commissioner ucation has been pushed by interested people.

The latest is Dr. Clair L. Taylor now Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The idea is based on the Fed The idea is based on the Federal system and a desire to "take the office out of politics."

Under the plan, the commissioner would be appointed by the state board, of education, which now operates Michigan's teacher's colleges.

It was also an idea of the late Dr. Lee M. Thurston, Taylor's predecessor in office. Legislators have shied away in the past because it meant one less office and most legislators are interested in affairs of one political party or another.

It was done with ceremony and pomp by Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart, a group of state legislators and tree experts from Michigan State College.

Just in case the original didn't make the grade, the state planted three of them.
